B. F. Bingham Distributing Clerk in Treasury for Fifty Years

ST. LOUIS, December 17.—The body of B. F. Bingham, for nearly fifty years distributing clerk in the United States Treasury at Washington, D. C., was taken from a lagoon in Forest Park here today. A note found in the dead man's pockets indicated that he had voluntarily sought death.

Bingham was a veteran of the civil war and was retired two month ago, coming to St. Louis to make his home with a niece.

For a number of years before moving from Washington, Mr. Bingham lived at the home of Mrs. E. M. Calloway, 112 Maryland Avenue, northeast. He was seventy-nine years old. At the Calloway home it was said last night that Mr. Bingham had no relatives living here.

When he left Washington he told members of the Calloway family that he was going "west" to visit some relatives and to seek a milder climate. He was a member of the local D.A. R.

Lincoln Said:

“It is an old and true maxim that a drop of honey catches more flies than a gallon of gall.”
So with men, if you would win a man to your cause, first convince him that you are his sincere friend. Therein is the drop of honey that catches the heart; which, say what they will, is the great railroad to his reason, and when once gained, you will find but little trouble in convincing his judgment of the justice of your cause, if, indeed, that cause is a just one.

For 50 and 8 years hath the Lord led us!

"Thy vows are upon me, O God. I will render praises unto Thee! ----- Psalms 56:12

As we trust, the Spirit of the Lord has led us to celebrate our 58th Anniversary (October 19th), by stressing the NEED and POWER of PRAYER at every service throughout this month. We are a branch of the NEW TESTAMENT CHURCH which is built on CHRIST. Nothing shall prevail against her! It has been redeemed by the BLOOD, through FAITH. It is regenerated, being a SPIRIT-baptized Church as well as baptized by water. It is a joyful, witnessing Church, going forth with loins girded, and burning lamps, carrying the SALVATION of a lost world upon its heart, and looking forward to that blessed HOPE, and glorious APPEARING of the GREAT GOD and our SAVIOR, Jesus Christ (Titus 2:13). She is as fair as the moon, clear as the sun and terrible as any army with banners!

Hyattsville, Maryland

July 25th 1882

Mr. Perkins

Dear Sir-

Yours came duly to hand. Contents read.

I have examined the Hyattsville bridge. It is very much out of repair as the boards are of pine wood. A horse got his leg in it and came near to breaking it, so I fixed it temporarily with boards. The joistings are sound but the boards are bad. Dekin's bridge is 12 feet wide and takes 16 feet braid. The boards being oak are sound save three. Eight joistings are need as one of the old ones is broken.

There is a [illegible] at Cattail Hill, opposite Walker's Blacksmith shop. It is so filled up that it throws the water in the middle of the road and I want to ask if you will allow me to take it up and renew it with boards and poles. There is another place on the hill (Cattail) which needs a trunk to be made across it if it is according to your wishes. Please tell me weather it shall be done with boards or poles.

. I am making very slow progress on the road-- that is I have so few hands. They won't work for .80 and board themselves. The script allows 1 dollar but they have to sell it for .80 in money.

Dr. Eversfield wants 3 dollars for a pair of mules and a man. Therefore I have neither horse nor plow on the road yet.

Mr. Bellows also promised to let me have 2 horses and a man but he wants 3 dollars per day as 2.50 will bring him in debt .50.

Mr. Lee wants 4 dollars for his yoke of oxen and man.

DIED AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Attachment 43:

Rev. William Bishop Johnson, D.D., LL.D., was born in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, December 11, 1856. He graduated from the public schools of Buffalo, N. Y., in 1870, the Normal School, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, in 1874, and entered Wayland Seminary, now Union University, Richmond, Va., in 1876, under Dr. G. M. P. King, graduating in 1879, at the age of 23 years, as valedictorian of his class, and taking the prize as orator.

In 1872 he professed faith in Christ and was baptized by Rev. J. W. Mitchell, then pastor of the Queens Street Baptist Church, Toronto, at the age of 16 years. He immediately took up the study of Theology, under the instruction of his pastor, and entered the ministry in 1875, at the age of 19 years, and was regularly ordained to the work of the Gospel Ministry at the age of 23 years in the Metropolitan Baptist Church, then known as the Fourth Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., in 1879, for the pastorate of the First Baptist Church, Frederick, Md., where he built a large congregation and was beloved by all classes of people. In 1881 he was appointed by the American Baptist Home Mission Society as general missionary for Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia, and in this position did great service for the educational work of the denomination, collecting thousands of dollars for its support.

In 1882 he was appointed Professor of Mathematics and Political Science at Wayland Seminary, a position he held for twelve years, until he voluntarily resigned, to devote his time to pastoral work. During his connection with Wayland, as a member of the faculty, he was soliciting agent for that institution, traveling from the mountains to the sea securing students until the institution was too small to contain them. Hundreds of young men in all professions in this country loved and honored their old teacher, and point to him as the first man that gave them a start in life. In December, 1883, he accepted the pastorate of the Second Baptist Church, Washington, D.C., a church that had long been afflicted with internal dissensions, with a membership of less than one hundred. Under his guidance it grew to a membership of 2,200, with one of the largest church edifices in the city, erected in 1894-95, at a cost of $75,000, with one of the largest and most intelligent congregations in the city. Dr. Johnson was the originator of the Sunday School Lyceum idea in this country, having organized the first in 1885. At this Lyceum there gathered every Sunday afternoon hundreds of Washington's brightest and best people. In May, 1916, Dr. Johnson resigned the pastorate of this church, after serving the congregation faithfully for 33 years, to take up a large field of activity for the denomination, leaving the church July 9, 1916, with an indebtedness of $23,000.

In 1891 he organized the National Baptist Educational Convention, which has since become the Educational Board of the⁵⁷

But yesterday a man – now lifeless clay!
But yesterday the preacher – today
He fills a place in Fame's historic hall
And in the hearts that loved him and knew his worth.

The dial hand stole close to 'leven
When Reaper Death appeared to claim his own;
The winged spirit took its flight to Heaven
To reap the fruit which it on earth had sown.

Glad climax of a grand career was his,
Which many envy, few strive to gain;
Though Johnson won, 'twas ever his to live
That others, too, this honor might obtain,

Early in life he sought the Lord,
And made His Church his choice,
And when the Master called him home,
He understood the Voice.

So zealous in his Master's cause,
A preacher strong and bold,
From his earliest manhood
Down to declining years,

Come, read his life: scan well its pages,
Ambitious men of some future age;
In denomination or church, whatever he has done
He filled a place no other could supply.

Touch light the ashes, let no rugged hand
Disturb their sacred mass, nor envy steal
A laurel which has been so nobly gained
His life, his deeds, bespeak immortal fame.

Go, rest in peace, our brother dear
Go, rest with God on high, and
While we meet to mourn, our loss
Your soul with angels, fly.

The angels are watching with solemn breath
The soft bed of the peaceful sleeper

Our President's Message on Saving Money

"I have for many years been pretty well convinced that saving money is largely a matter of habit, and people who make a good beginning at it presently discover that it is by no means impossible, and it is altogether a good thing to do. Just at this juncture in the world's and our country's affairs it is certainly one of the most useful contributions that people could possibly make to putting the world right. I have no more earnest hope that the public may take this lesson to heart and learn to save."

Golden Wedding Bells Ring for Couple Who Recall Historic Events in Capital

[Insert photograph]

Mr. and Mrs. James Rea Finney, 79 and 75 years old, respectively, are today celebrating their “golden wedding” anniversary at their home, 1414 Girard street. They have long been associated with the Capital City, and now recall vividly many of the history-making events of the last half century.

The couple was married in Cadiz, Ohio. Mr. Finney was born in Cadiz February 25, 1846, and moved to Washington with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. William Gouthrie Finney, in 181, his father coming here to accept a position in the Treasury Department. Their home was at Ninth and H streets during the Civil War.

Sold Evening Star

Mr. Finney earned his first money selling The Evening Star, back in he early 60s and today vividly recalls the impressions made on his boy mind during the days of the conflict between the North and South.

He was present in the old Ford Theater the night President Lincoln was shot, and remembers how his family sat up until morning awaiting additional news of that tragedy.

Too young to serve in the Army during the early part of the war, Mr. Finney enlisted with Company K, 170th Ohio Infantry in 1864 and served with Sheridan in his Shenandoah campaign. And today he is an active member of Burnside Post No. 8 of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Mr. Finney was an athlete of note in his younger days, and played on one of the earliest organized professional baseball teams in the United States. He was a member of the Old Jefferson Base Ball Club, which played the National Base Ball Club in July 1867, the latter team winning by the odd score of 30 to 29. Mr. Finney played center field. He told today how in his base ball days gloves, masks and other equipment, now considered essential, were unknown. “Jim” Finney, was “signed up” by the Nationals, a professional team of high caliber then following the game.

Goes to Nevada

In 1869 Mr. Finney left Washington to accept a position in the United States Branch Mint, Treasury Department, in Carson City, Nev. Later he lived in Kansas City for two years and afterward went to his old home in Ohio, where he engaged successfully in the grocery business for 20 years.

Returning to this city, Mr. Finney was employed in the office of the claims and control division, Internal Revenue Bureau, for 27 years, having been retired about three years ago.

Smithsonian

Mrs. Finney was born March 8, 1850. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Brindley, sr., prominent farmers of Harrison County, Ohio. She is the tenth child of a group of 12 children. There were nine sons and three daughters. Of these, Mrs. Finney has only a brother living, W. Frank Brindley of Los Angeles.

A son and daughter of the aged couple reside in Washington, Val C. Finney and Mrs. Maurice Adler Beckham, who are with their parents today.

“LIFE’S RAILWAY TO HEAVEN”

1. Life is like a mountain railroad,
With an engineer that’s brave;
We must make the run successful.
From the cradle to the grave.
Watch the curves, the fills, the tunnels;
Never falter, never quail

|| Keep your hand upon the throttle, ||
|| And your eye upon the rail. ||

2. You will roll up grades of trail;
You will cross the bridge of strife;
See that Christ is your Conductor
On this lightning train of life.
Always mindful of obstruction
Do your duty, never fail.

3. You will often find obstructions;
Look for storms of wind and rain;
On a fill, or curve, or trestle,
They will almost ditch your train;
Put your trust alone in Jesus,
Never falter, never fail.

4. As you roll across the trestle,
Spanning Jordon’s swelling tide,
You behold the Union Depot
Into which your train will glide;
There you’ll meet the Superintendent,
God the Father, God the Son,

GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

November 19, 1963

Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting-place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us— that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause of which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.
